| Hebrew | hebrew The Hebrew אתָּ word does not have a corresponding word in English. In Hebrew, it is a marker of the accusative, i.e. the word following it is the object of the sentence. It only ever occurs in conjunction with nouns associated with the definite article הַ.Genesis 1:1 עִם אֲבֹתָיו בְּעִיר הַיְּהוּדָה |
| ESV    | And they brought him upon horses, and he was buried with his fathers in the city of David.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| NIV    | He was brought back by horse and was buried with his fathers in the City of Judah.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| NLT    | They brought his body back on a horse, and he was buried with his ancestors in the City of David.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
