Amos 5:10 condemns those who "hate the one who reproves in the gate" and "abhor the one who speaks the truth."

The gate ((שַׁעֵּר) was typically where elders judged disputes (; Deuteronomy 21:19; Ruth 4:1–11). Parallelism shows that the elite not only refused to uphold justice but actively opposed truth-tellers. While some have argued "gate" here might mean a political faction, the surrounding context of legal corruption fits the judicial setting. These are the same "strong" (v. 9) who "turn justice to wormwood" (v. 7) — making what should be sweet and life-giving into something bitter and deadly.
