| Hebrew | The Hebrew אָּ word does not have a corresponding word in English. In Hebrew, it is a marker of the accusative, i.e. the word following it is the object of the sentence. For example, in Genesis 1:1 the word is preceded by אָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּאָּA plugin-autotooltip_default plugin-autotooltip_big |
| ESV    | When Judah sent the young goat by his friend the Adullamite to take back the pledge from the woman's hand, he did not find her.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| NIV    | Meanwhile Judah sent the young goat by his friend the Adullamite in order to get his pledge back from the woman, but he did not find her.                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| NLT    | Later Judah asked his friend Hirah the Adullamite to take the young goat to the woman and to pick up the things he had given her as his guarantee. But Hirah couldn't find her.                                                                                                                                                                    |
