|       | The definite article ἀπιστία ἐξεκλάσθησαν, σὺ δὲ                                                                                                                                                     |
|       | greek                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|       | δέ is a conjunction that can mean “but” or “and” or “also” or “moreover”. It is a word that is used very frequently in the New Testament, and is often unexpressed and not translated in English. τῇ |
|       | greek                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|       | The definite article πίστει ἔστηκας. μὴ ὑψηλὰ φρόνει, ἀλλὰ φοβοῦ·                                                                                                                                    |
| ESV   | That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe.                                                            |
| NIV   | Granted. But they were broken off because of unbelief, and you stand by faith. Do not be arrogant, but be afraid.                                                                                    |
| NLT   | Yes, but remember- those branches were broken off because they didn't believe in Christ, and you are there because you do believe. So don't think highly of yourself, but fear what could happen.    |
| KJV   | Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not highminded, but fear:                                                                                             |
